We have reached and opened the door and now stand on the threshold of 1958, the year of expectation, decision, and change. Behind us lies MacMurray as she has been with all those traditions that have made her endure. Guiding us along the path of progress is a century of growth. Beginning, integrating, and organizing challenge our steps toward change. Two colleges have banded together to build new traditions on the foundation of the old. Their crossing of the threshold of 1958 is portrayed as each of us follows his own changing path through the pages of this annual.

Knowledge . . .

Knowledge inspires and challenges those who would learn its secrets. Not facts alone but wisdom to apply these facts is the ideal of education. The learner must be the thinker and the doer. He who receives knowledge must give it again to others.

Dr. Louis W. Norris cautions seniors on their crossing.

On the Threshold of Adventure...

Life is a trail of adventures. During college years the student waits expectantly on the threshold of life. It is with excitement that the adventurer follows the trail that winds from the campus green.

Gathered in a friendship ring the Class of 1958 views its horticultural addition.

Intersecting paths remind us how soon ours will part.

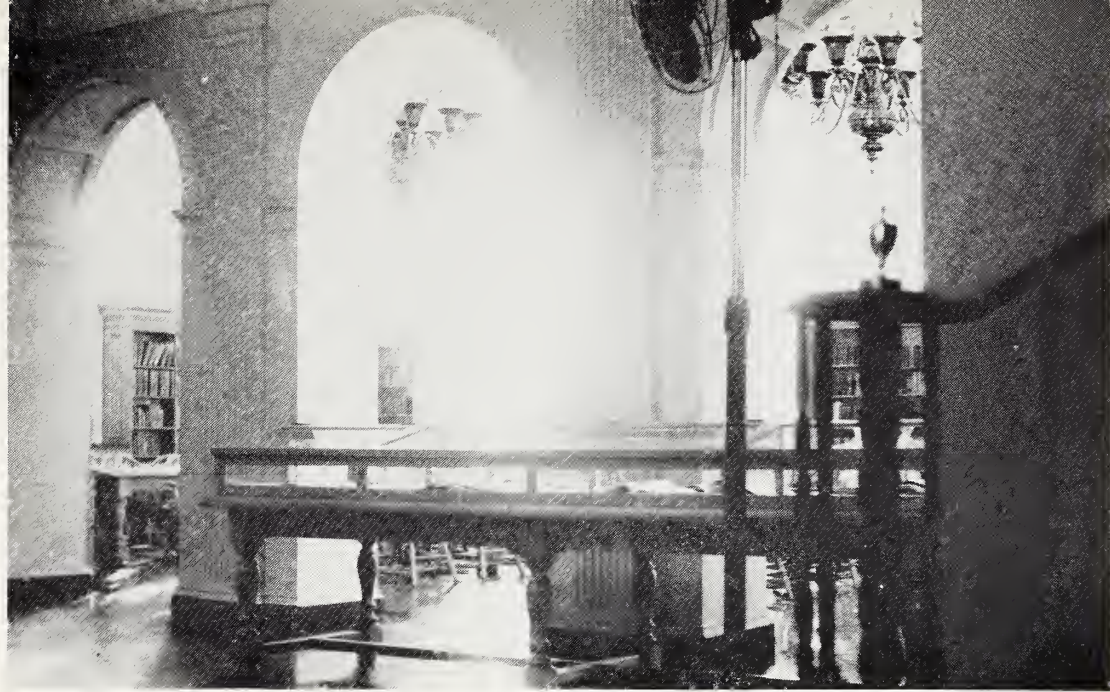

Art exhibits offer a heyday for self-styled critics.

From a formless mass of clay the potter molds his masterpiece of beauty; from youthful idealism and worldly wisdom the student creates a changing masterpiece of personality. Through his creativity he expresses his innermost resources and trains himself for life's activities.

The truly beautiful person is not always fair of face but fair of thought and act. Her radiating loveliness warms the lives of all she meets. Her soul shines through making the drab and ugly beautiful too.

Living . . .

Successful living is achieved by adjusting self and others into a perfect balance. Life must be purposefully directed toward the realization of truth. By sincerely searching for truth in others the college student discovers the truth in himself.

To classes or to clubs it's always together.

A smile, a chuckle, a laugh, these sights and sounds of joy transform the bleakest moments into hours of happiness. Joy is the ingredient that makes life really livable.

Louis W. Norris, A.B., S.T.B., Ph.D., LL.D.

President of the College

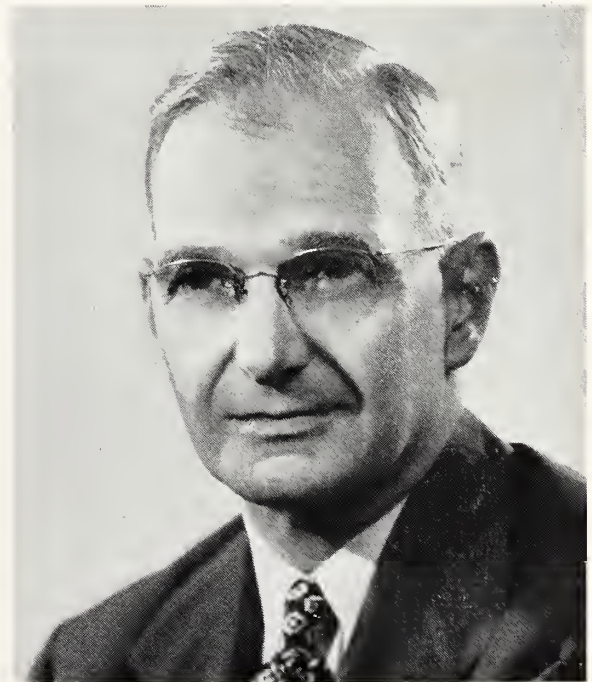

"To stand on the threshold of a house not yet visited or of a new year soon to be born is exciting. To stand at the threshold of a new era in the history of MacMurray College has proved to be fascinating even beyond our expectations. Our first glimpses of the new coordinate college for men have brought some surprises, some inspirations, and above all new assurances that MacMurray will extend its service to men at a level of which all MacMurray graduates, whether men or women, will be proud."

Graduate Students

After four years of preparation the Class of 1958 eagerly crosses the threshold of life. Their graduation is the commencement of new trails of adventure. Although the trails and adventurers part, the unity of their beginning always remains.

Senior Class

The Class of 1958 made its closing year one of fun and service. Special serenades for finals and Sophomore Project saw "the gang that's on the ball" again in their blue shirts. The Senior Ball and its royal pageantry was the crowning event of this last year.

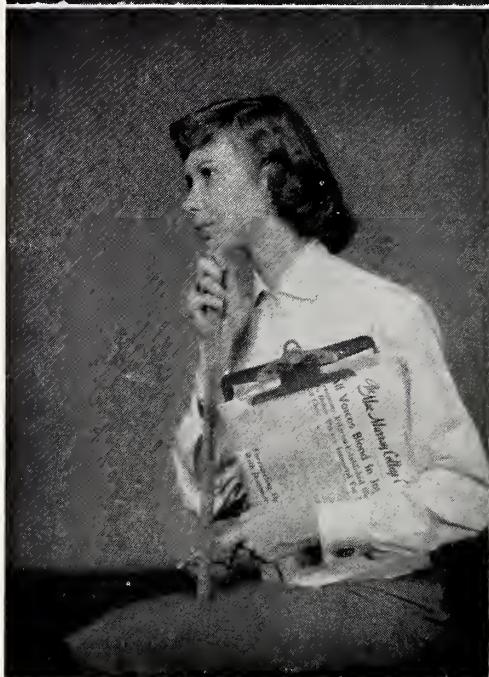

Hard-working seniors enjoy a rare moment of relaxation.

College organizations and activities give the student an opportunity to express his own creativity. They cause him to discover and perfect hidden resources. From campus activities it is a short step across the threshold to the activities of life.

Executive Board

Women Students

The executive board serves as the nucleus for campus activities of the Women Students' Association. Acting as a recommending body this year, it suggested establishing the Co-ordinate Board and allowing books in classrooms during tests.

Chairs: Elaine Coorens, Pat Dodd, Peggy Combs, Virginia Nielsen, Nancy Calhoun, Nancy Lester, Joan Downing.

Association

Nancy Lester, judicial director, and her eight-member board worked this year as a separate department under the new division of powers. Keeping records of policy infringements was secretary, Peggy Combs. A precedent system now simplifies the Board's decisions on violations of the Honor Code.

Student Orientation Service

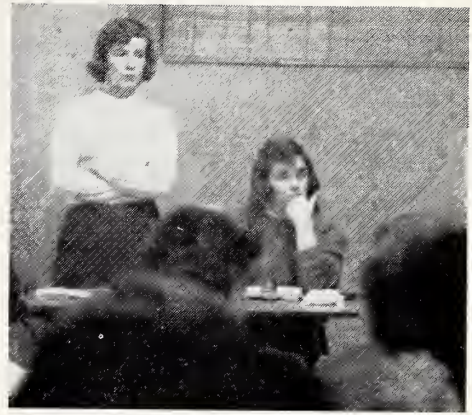

Carolyn Degitz,
S.O.S. Chairman

Carolyn Degitz, Student Orientation chairman, and her counselors are awarded the task of introducing freshman women to the complexities of MacMurray. This year's large class received advice from professional counselor, Miss Alice Manicur, her student assistant, Barbara Chrystie, and residence hall advisors, Barbara Gac, Deloris Storey, Pat Pullen, and Carole Rockwell.

lative

Co-ordinate Board

Organized to bring closer union between the two colleges, the co-ordinate board meets every two weeks to discuss problems affecting both men and women. It is a recommending body only and refers suggestions to the proper channels for final action. Composed of selected representatives from the governing bodies of both schools, the board was organized in the fall of 1957.

Seated: Nancy Lester, Dean Elizabeth C. Rearick, Betty Lawson, Louise Rintelmann, Pat Wilder.
Standing: Dean Linneman, Bill Wallis, Tom Ramsbey, Gail Jones.

Campus Christian Council

Campus Christian Council sponsors a ministerial tea in the spring and the annual celebration of Religious Emphasis Week. Sondra Search, president, worked this year with a group of students from both colleges to make religion more vital on campus. Dr. Samuel F. Leuchli from Garrett Biblical Institute was the guest speaker for Religious Emphasis Week which was held February 23-30. He chose for his topic "From Cradle to Cross," and was entertained by the C.C.C.

Council of House Presidents

Newly organized this year, the Council of House Presidents co-ordinates residence hall policies. Representing this body on Legislative was Kay Swoboda. All those many dorm rules are talked over here with Miss Mary Frances Wheeler before being brought to the individual House Councils and residents.

Kathryn Hall House Council discusses residence hall problems.

Hannah Haneline served as president of the Town Girls Club this year. Members raised money through the sale of baked goods. A slumber party at Town House, a dining hall table party, and other social get-togethers marked a season of group fellowship and fun.

International Relations Club

Anabel Burgh, president, and Dr. Victor H. Sheppard, advisor.

International Relations Club strives to give MacMurray students a better understanding of world affairs as they happen. President Anabel Burgh and her officers sponsored a United Nations chapel and a reception for Sir Anthony Nutting as part of this year's events. Delegates were sent to a regional conference of I.R.C. groups at Milwaukee in April.

First row: Ginny Dunn, Nouha Merch, Miss Nancy France, Ruth Jane Hunt, Sarah Fahnestock.

Second row: Doris Johnstone, Sharon Campbell, Martha Wagner, Nancyann Hyer.

Third row: Roberta Steger, Shirley Roll, Sara McMurtrie, Sandra Ehman, Margrace Prugh, Zo Verbeke, Carolyn Watts.

Home Economics Club

First row: Sharon Campbell, Miss Nancy France, advisor.
Second row: Roberta Steger, Doris Johnstone.

Membership in the Home Economics Club is open to majors in this field and any students taking courses in home economics. President Sharon Campbell directed the club in planning an active program including a campus bake sale, a baked bean supper, and a spring style show. Miss Nancy France advised the club's activities.

First row: Ann Martin, Carolann Davies, Judy Bosserman, Sylvia Kruse.
Second row: Eleanor Eberle, Sondra Search, Pat Pullen, Barbara Havemann, Dolores Webber.
Third row: Frances Budd, Nancy Zook, Peggy Lieberman, Roberta Steger.
Fourth row: Kay Braden, Chris Schultz, Nancy Harris.
Fifth row: Joyce Ravizza, Linda Stoudt, Canny Poppen.

MacMurray Players

President Pat Pullen and the Mac Players sponsored five plays for the College Theatre season this year. Included in special events were a Christmas party and decoration of the theatre, an informal coffee for Miss Anita Colby in February, and the sale of flowers for Dad's Day. Membership in this group is based on hours of participation in college productions.

First row: Sondra Search, Eleanor Eberle, Pat Pullen.
Second row: Judy Bosserman, Carolann Davies.

National Collegiate Players

National Collegiate Players, honorary dramatic fraternity, initiates a select few each spring. This group, advised by Dr. Ray E. Holcombe, supported the College Theatre by self-participation and stimulation of interest in others. Serving coffee between the acts of college productions was a special project this year under the direction of president, Eleanor Eberle.

Scribblers

Publishing the annual Muse, the Scribblers Club gave the campus an opportunity to view its creative talent in print. This organization gives members an opportunity to keep up with latest literary trends and to improve their own writing skills. Carol Foreman served as president of this organization which was sponsored by Dr. Alexander Jones.

Art League

Art League organized several new activities this year including the sale of Japanese prints and the showing of art films. Jewelry made by the students was also sold on campus. President Cilla Swartz directed this club in promoting interest in art outside the classroom.

First row: Penny Niece, Roberta Walford, Barbara Havemann, Lynn Whitsitt, Carrie Agles, Evie Jackson.

Second row: Mr. Howard F. Sidman, Cilla Swartz, Dusty Hamrick, Chris Way, Marlene Anderson, Linda Lowe, Kathy Atwood.

The Social Committee was reorganized this year under chairman Pat Cartwright. The new plan was based on representation from the residence halls rather than from the classes. Assisting in the planning of all campus social affairs, the committee also scheduled special trips to see "My Fair Lady" and "Big Ten" football games. Miss Mary Frances Wheeler served as sponsor.

Seated: Pat Cartwright.

Standing: Marlene Meyer, Marlene Anderson, Carrie Smith.

Standing: Nancy Jackson, Laura Smith, Jan Shumaker, Barbara Jones, Roy Stillwell, Janet Edwards, Mary Ann White.

It is the purpose of the Music Educators National Conference to acquaint students with the profession of music education. A new addition this year was round-table discussions by band and vocal directors from the area. Working under president, Charlotte Sunderland, and sponsor, Mr. Henry Busche, the group raised funds by the sale of cider and doughnuts in the dorm.

Organ Guild

Organ Guild, composed of majors in this field, was directed by president, Josie Krussell, and sponsor, Mr. Robert Glasgow. Much of the year was spent in planning an "Organ Workshop" to be held in June. Representatives from 70 midwest colleges are to attend a week of lectures, demonstrations and recitals. The Guild also attended recitals in several nearby cities.

Music Educators National Conference

Dot Bunke, editor-in-chief

Under the leadership of editor-in-chief, Dot Bunke, and business manager, Gretchen Ulrich, the Greetings presented campus news and problems to the student body. Special activities included a trip to the Associated Collegiate Press Conference in New York City and the sponsorship of a Midwest Conference for college newspapers from ten surrounding states. Mr. Tom Skiles advised this publication.

True beauty should be honored when it is found in others. Although the beautiful person asks no reward, she merits admiration and acclaim. Her achievement is the ideal toward which all should strive.

Beauty Honors

Miss Namiko Kominami

Knowledge

This year's recipient of the award made by the ILLIWOCO staff to the senior who has best represented the first part of the college motto, "Knowledge, Faith, and Service," Namiko Kominami will graduate with honors because of her outstanding academic achievement.

Miss Betty Lawson

faith

Betty Lawson has been chosen to represent "Faith" because of her devotion to MacMurray College. She always displays a sincere interest in her fellow students and in her many responsibilities.

Miss Marie Kirby

Service

Because of her leadership and willingness to serve MacMurray to the best of her ability, Marie Kirby has been chosen to represent "Service." Her service has been continuously outstanding during her college years.

Miss Barbara Wilson

Patricia Lanahan Schweiter Award

This award is given for excellence in the field of creative arts. Barb, a drama major, has been active in both radio and the theater. She will be especially remembered for her fine portrayal of Medea this fall.

Miss Cinnie Poppen

Conlee - Kent Cup

The Conlee-Kent Cup, a memorial from the class of 1932, is given to the junior who, in her sophomore year, best epitomized the College Motto—Knowledge, Faith and Service. The recipient is announced on Junior Recognition Day.

Miss Joan Shaw

Rearick Trophy

The Rearick Trophy, given in recognition of outstanding sportsmanship, was presented to Joan Shaw at Honors Chapel. Joanie, a physical education major, has displayed ability and willingness to participate in sports activities during her years at MacMurray.

First row: Nancy Lester, Peggy Somers, Marie Kirby.

Second row: Dot Bunke, Eleanor Eberle, Pat Wilder, Betty Lawson.

Who's Who

Who's Who is a list of the outstanding leaders on college campuses across the nation, compiled every year. The MacMurray candidates are elected in the fall by the Legislative.

Anabel Burgh, Namiko Kominami, Nancy Lester, Pat Wilder, Eleanor Eberle

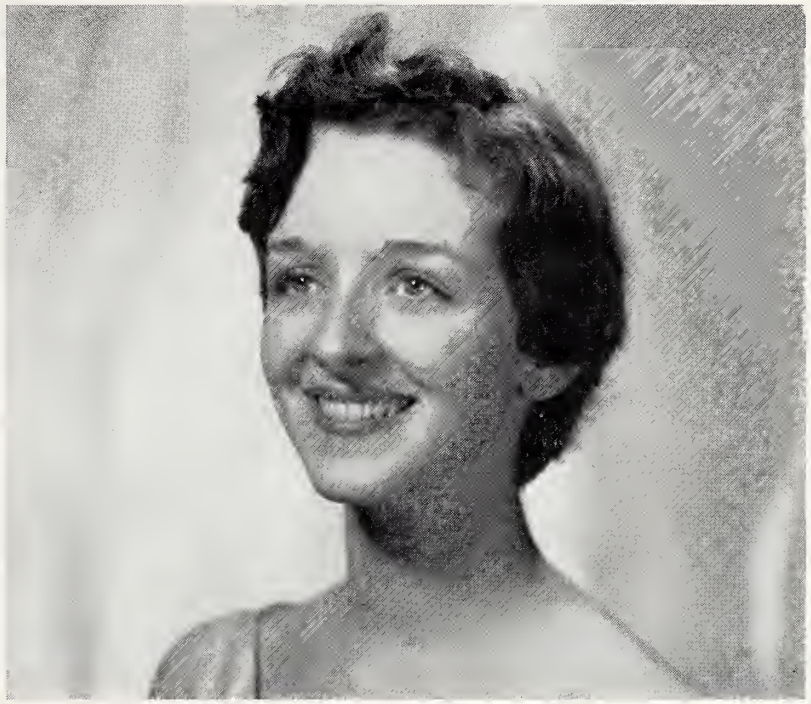

Cap and Gown

Cap and Gown is an honor society similar to Mortarboard. New members are chosen in their junior year and are recognized at Honors Chapel.

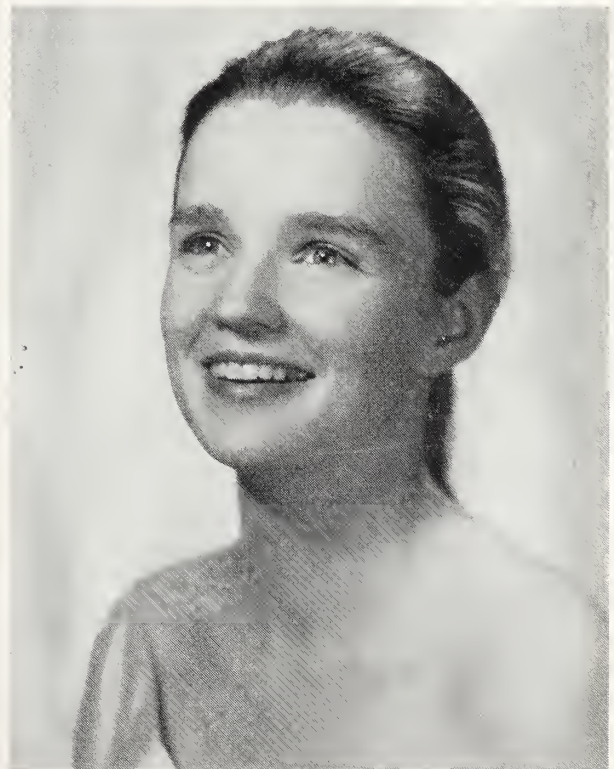

Miss Nancy Calhoun

Senior Ball Queen

Miss Beverly Whitehead
Senior Ball Attendant

The Senior Ball brightened winter's drabness with springlike regality. On a pastel throne, the queen and her court accepted homage from a crowded dance floor.

Miss Barbara Wilson

College is the study of living as well as learning. The student must understand both to enjoy success. During underclass years the challenges of class and residence hall unity help the student to adjust and achieve.

Living Underclasses

Seated: Joyce Walker, president.
Evelyn McMillan vice-president; Nancy Harris, treasurer; Pat Cartwright, secretary; Bev Schafer, executive representative; Joan Downing, judicial representative.

Clad in their zebra-striped class shirts, the juniors have offered a series of unique serenades this year. Choosing "Mist de la Mer" as their theme, the Class of 1959 decked McClelland Hall in blues and greens for the first major dance of the year. The "juniors, the crooners," were led by president, Joyce Walker.

No years are more joyful than the brief ones spent in college. These are the carefree days of happiness. Their remembrance will always be a joy in the years to come.

Joy

Student Life

Girls in green lie down on the job.

Freshmen march to unknown adventures.

Cowboys and cavalry join in Indian attack.

When we grow too old to dream we'll have you to remember. That means you, MacMurray. You on the threshold of our joy.

Who can ever forget those bright fall days when initiation was the center of all our thoughts? We were awed and frightened by the Green Girls, yet we raced to the smoker to sing "The Mamie Moose." We laughed at ourselves in those ridiculous old west costumes, yet we quaked inwardly as we marched to the dining hall. And when it was finally over and the Green Girls smiled at last, we were glad and yet just a little bit sad.

Rain fogs our vision but not our dreams.

There were some days that weren't bright. Days when the monsoon season hit Jacksonville and it rained and rained and rained. Days when our sneakers got soaked and little puddles formed in the pockets of our slickers and our sailor hats weren't very effective. And still it rained.

Late fall and whose sniffle or cough won't recall The Great Epidemic? The flu hit and with it came the "co-ordinate" infirmary. Classes were forgotten in a confusion of volunteer workers, orange juice, penicillin pills, and being awakened in the middle of the night for a temperature check. And all the while the picture of James E. smiled benignly down.

Flu epidemic has "grave" results.

Cannon protects the weary team.

Dissipation conquers at the end of the day.

Important times, lazy times, just-any-old-times — these are the things we'll remember. The Army-Navy football game can never thrill us as our Army-Navy hockey game did. And when Navy won, some of us were happy, some of us were unhappy, and all of us were completely exhausted. We were never too tired to play bridge, however. Learning Blackwood and Goren whiled away those shortened days of early winter, and bids of four spades were our favorite coffee companions.

Doubling their bid makes the game more exciting.

Senior recognition involves advisor in tradition.

Then suddenly four years of bridge equaled Senior Recognition Day, and we proudly planted our flowering crab tree. And for the first time we were aware that it was almost all over.

But before it ended there had to be other times. Long winter days when we were so organized that even a fire drill couldn't catch us in the shower. Times when we just had to let off steam in a rabble-rousing water fight and ended up with a soaked sweatshirt.

Wet warrior reflects on her dilemma.

Lassie joins lassies for fun and fire drill.

Producing a play makes Sally Mac a busy girl.

Yule decorations brighten pre-vacation days with Christmas cheer.

We worked hard. We pounded our thumbs and built flats until opening night of "The Importance of Being Earnest." But when we saw our handicraft was a success, the aching muscles suddenly didn't hurt quite so much.

Christmas came but once a year, and we loved every minute of the holiday season. And as we raced down the stairs to our eight o'clock, the scent of pine needles filled us with the Christmas spirit.

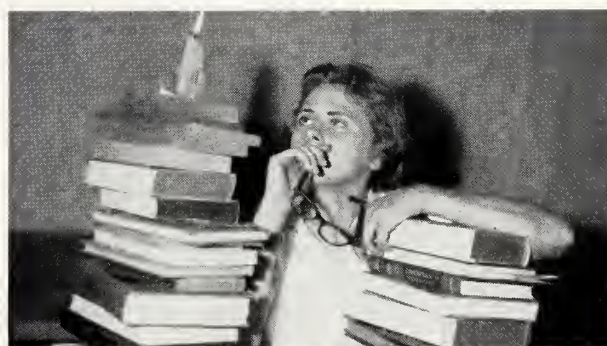

There were magical moments on big dance weekends. Moments when the hours of planning and cutting cardboard fish and stuffing chicken wire resulted in an underwater wonderland called the Junior Ball.

There were weary moments when exams creeped up on us. Coffee (black) was our best friend, and those books of blue were our worst enemies. But amid sighs of relief and disbelief we made it.

When spring arrived (or almost) there were relaxed moments when we got out our tennis rackets and tripped the light fantastic out on the courts. And we yelled down the halls for a new kind of "fourth" — for doubles.

Maids in white honor royalty of the sea.

The light of knowledge seems dim as exams approach.

Spring fever reactivates winter weary tennis lovers.

Dreams of success come true for the freshmen.

Sometimes we displayed our talents. Whether it was the freshman project or the horse show, it was important because we were the stars.

Sometimes we entertained. In our prettiest dresses we chatted graciously with the faculty and realized that we could be ladies after all.

Dogwood brightens a day of graciousness.

Blue ribbon brings elation on horseback.

"Women only" gives way to pride in the Highlanders.

Sometimes we cheered . . . sometimes we sang. And one time . . . a very special time . . . we graduated. Yes, MacMurray, we'll remember you. But not because we've grown too old to dream; we'll never be that old. On the threshold of joy, we build our dreams on you.

By Lee Manuel

Serenades are our favorite way of saying things.

Ideals, memories, and friendships culminate in graduation.

A New Building for a New Era

The aspirations and concepts of men must be supported by a firm foundation, and to this Mac-Murray College dedicates a new institution of knowledge and learning. Thus, upon the foundations of this new college, upon the thresholds of higher education, it is the duty of each man to strengthen the ideals of those who saw the need.

After encountering many difficulties, the newspaper staff secured a permanent position in the life of the college. The Highland Times evolved through the hard work of Dick Starie, Pete Powsner, and Paul Jablon.

The absence of football in the fall sports program prompted the Men's College to field one of the few collegiate soccer teams in the area. The all-freshman squad, only three members of which had experienced inter-scholastic competition, was under the tutelage of Coach Bill Wall. The Booters defeated Blackburn College, 2-1, in the first game of a home and home series, and then dropped one by the same score to the Beavers. A flu-riddled squad lost a 5-3 decision to Greenville, for a season's mark of 1-2.

Price up.

Although they started the year with a lack of experience and a lack of valuable height, the MacMurray Highlanders did a fine job. They made up for their deficiencies with a great sense of self-confidence and determination. The Highlanders worked hard at practice and developed into a smooth working combination under the direction of Coach Bill Wall. Although they lost several heartbreakers, the members of the team have shown a great deal of sportsmanship. The men's college is proud of the team and is expecting a great season next year.

The cheerleaders did an outstanding job during the past basketball season. Always showing great spirit in victory or defeat, they helped the morale of both the team and the spectators.
